

Up To Speed

Monday, January 6, 2025

Hey V Team, here's what's happening this week in and around Verizon.

It's officially 2025 and we're kicking it off with some big news with our first ever official Super Bowl FanFest.

This year Super Bowl Sunday won't just be felt at the big game in New Orleans, we're bringing the energy to 30 NFL cities across the country, like right here at MetLife Stadium.

It will be a celebration like none other.

And as a Verizon customer, you can meet NFL Hall of Famers, take selfies at the 50 yard line, enjoy food from local small businesses, get your hands on exclusive merch and so much more.

So spread the word and get excited about the big game. I already met a few fans who can't wait. Nothing else to do, the Jets aren't going to be playing in it this year. It's going to be cool to come hang out.

With the amount of people that will be there, makes it a little more the atmosphere exciting rather than sitting home in your living room.

I think that's a fun experience. Gets people out of their homes and gets people interacting with other people, maybe meeting new friends.

Verizon is throwing the biggest Super Bowl party ever, and all you have to do is visit VerizonFanFest.com for more on how to secure your tickets.

And don't worry be V Team, we've got you. We've got exclusive tickets just for you starting January 13th.

First come, first served. So make sure to be on the lookout.

And V Team, we're just getting started. 2025 is about to be more boldness, more big energy, and you can tune in to see how we're going to do that at our kickoff event later this month.

But back to FanFest, who's in? Let us know in the comments who you're bringing to a FanFest near you.

Happy New Year V Team. Until next time, you're up to speed.
